1968: The New Times Are Coming is a big journalistic story about the most rebellious year of the 20th century. "Ewa Winnicka and Cezary Å•azarewicz take us on a journey 50 years into the past. They collect the slivers of life, and describe known and unknown people to show the world of that time from an unobvious side...fascinating threads come together into sometimes colorful, sometimes dismal picture." (Marcin Zaremba, a historian)
