

Mind Games Narcissist Play with Empaths Emotions

author:

Synopsis

Narcissists lack empathy, and feel entitled to exploit the emotions of others. These personality traits, along with a grandiose sense of self and a scathing need to be right, make healthy relationships impossible. When an empath tries to end a relationship with a narcissist, a narcissist will exploit their emotions. Lisa A. Romano Life Coach breaks it all down in this episode.

If you would like to work with Lisa and her Life Coaches inside her online class designed to help heal the inner child, reprogram the subconscious mind, raise your consciousness and help you learn to unleash the power of an organized mind, check out her 12 Week Breakthrough Coaching Program, specifically created for adult children from emotionally neglectful homes.
