Are you looking to sell items on Amazon but have no idea how to get started? It is no doubt that the days of permanent stable jobs are slowly winding down to an end. While the employer wants productivity, the employee wants higher incomes, independence, and flexibility. Whoever can merge the four - productivity, higher incomes, independence, and flexibility - becomes the modern-day king of the market. Everyone is in a market, be it of products (merchants) or services (employees and professional consultants). To earn higher incomes, you need to boost your income opportunities and your earning potential. Online income opportunities have become the best way to maximize your income, part-time. Amazon leads the pack in providing you these opportunities through marketing and selling of consumer products. You need a Blueprint to Selling on Amazon to be able to be not just a seller earning passive income on Amazon but a shrewd seller optimizing the best of available opportunities. This guide empowers you with hands-on practical information on how you can start selling on Amazon and make $2000 a month profit on side income, part time. Your road to financial freedom begins with your determination to be free. Information is the power that you need to set yourself free. This book is a blueprint to that success. Here's what's included in this book:

- Why Should I Sell on Amazon?
- How Many Products Should I Sell?
- Where Should I Find Products to Sell?
- What are Restricted Categories and Items?
- How to Use Amazon Seller App
- How to Use Amazon Sales Rank Information
- How to Price Your Products
