Fall in love this holiday season with heartwarming tales of Christmases past in A Christmas Courting, an enchanting collection of Regency romances.

Love and Joy Come to You by Jennifer Moore - Lord Covington has planned a quiet holiday with his grieving mother but finds his plans rudely disrupted when lovely Cassie Weatherby and her young siblings are invited for Christmas. Despite his reservations, however, he begins to recognize in Cassie a kindred spirit.

A Christmas Courting by Chalon Linton - When obligations keep her in London, Keturah Hensley sadly anticipates missing the festivity of Christmas at her familyâ€™s country home and the company of her best friend, Christopher Shepherd. When she learns that Christopher will be joining her family in London for Christmas, she is delighted - but her elation is short-lived. Christopher is coming to Town to court the woman of his dreams, and Keturah fears she may have lost the chance to win his love.

Mistletoe Memories by Jen Geigle Johnson - From childhood, Patrick, Duke of Montrose, knew heâ€™d found his perfect match in Lady Alice Tarrington. When heâ€™s sent on a grand tour of the world, Patrick is confident heâ€™ll marry his sweetheart upon his return. But when he receives word that Alice is to marry another, will he be too late to claim her heart?

Second-Chance Christmas by Heidi Kimball - Francie and Gerard have been friends since childhood, but their friendship ended when she declined his heartfelt proposal of marriage. However, when her interactions with Gerardâ€™s holiday houseguests provoke in Francie unexpected jealousy, she realizes she must fight for Gerardâ€™s affections or risk losing him forever.
