Blue Dawson has been in love with Maggie March for as long as he can remember. When her father is arrested and asks Blue to watch over her and the farm, he jumps at the opportunity. Maybe he can finally confess his feelings to her.

The only way Maggie can save her father is to hire the best attorney, but her savings is depleted, and the farm is in trouble. She sees a chance in raising the funds, while keeping her father's predicament a secret from the townsfolk of Dove Grey. However, she needs a dance partner. She thinks she has found the perfect match.

Blue isn't a dancer. He actually hates dancing, but he's made a promise and now he's stuck. When things start to heat up, on and off the dance floor, he'll do just about anything to keep the music playing. How will he transition from protector to boyfriend material? Or will he always be in the friend zone?

Maggie might have a few secrets that'll turn Blue inside out, but nothing ever comes easy, especially not in Dove Grey.
