

Angel Face

author: Steven Henry

2026-07

Synopsis

author	Steven Henry
readBy	Kristi Alsip
inLanguage	english

A pretty face can get away with murder

Ask any cop: domestic disturbances are the worst. Family squabbles are ugly, emotional, vicious fights that can turn deadly in a heartbeat. And when the family you're talking about is the Mafia, you'd better be ready for anything.

The Lucarelli Family's new boss is consolidating his grip on the Mob. But not everyone is happy with Vinnie the Oil Man's leadership. A routine trip to court lands Detective Erin O'Reilly in the line of fire when gangsters start shooting right on the courthouse steps. To keep her promise to a dying man, Erin finds herself working with Witness Protection to guard a gangster's son.

Meanwhile, when a young woman in Brooklyn is savagely murdered, evidence points to the victim's Mafia connections. Erin and her trusty K-9 Rolf sniff out a terrified witness who can point them to the killer if the woman can be convinced to testify.

Then Erin gets a job offer from the most unlikely source imaginable. All she has to do is silence the witness permanently. Erin and her lover, reformed bomb-maker Morton Carlyle, will have to lay it all on the line in a desperate plan which could nail a murderer and save an innocent woman's life or blow apart everything they've been trying to build.

Reader's comments

comment 1:

â€"â€" ()