Angela Ventura is a waitress with a beautiful, curvy body. Her customers think so, her perverted boss thinks so, and her husband, Glenn, really thinks so. Angela...not so much. At 45, she assumes her body is past its prime and couldn't possibly be attractive to anyone.

Not that being modest about her body is anything new. Glenn has been trying for years to get her to show it off for him, or at least to leave the lights on when they have sex. Her answer has always been: "Sorry, honey, I'd be too embarrassed."

So, when Angela learns that she needs to have a state-mandated physical - to be conducted right at the restaurant - she's more than a little nervous. And this nervousness grows into full-fledged embarrassment, and even humiliation, when she walks into the restaurant's supply room and finds a very young physician's assistant - along with an examining table with stirrups, and a paper gown - waiting for her. This exam is going to be thorough, to say the least.

Naturally, the first thing the doctor tells her is to get everything off. Stripping down to her birthday suit - right here at work - is quite possibly the worst experience she ever had. And it gets worse when her dirty-old-man boss, Carl, keeps finding excuses to walk in on the exam!

Then, Glenn arrives at the restaurant to surprise Angela with some good news and is shocked to find her undressed in the back room in front of some young medical guy and peeping-tom Carl! Well, this situation arouses him like never before, so he, too, peeps in on the entire very intimate procedure. He's turned on first of all by views of his wife's gorgeous body that he's never been allowed to have. He's titillated even more by Angela's very red face and shaky reluctance to follow "doctor's orders". And he's aroused to the hilt by seeing Angela being felt-up, posed, and probed in ways he could only have dreamed of.

Glenn is beside himself with envy. Why that young kid and not him? How come she's willing to position herself provocatively in front of some guy with a medical degree but not for her own husband? How come this young guy's eyes and fingers are allowed full access to every one of Angela's best parts and not him?Well, things are about to change. Angela is going to learn to allow him the very same privileges she's allowed that young PA - and it sure as hell isn't going to end there. Embarrassed or not, humiliated or not, she is about to be "examined" like never before! Forget "doctor's orders". Now it's "husband's orders" from now on!Fans of ENF/CMNF: This story is for you!Part of the Shy Women, Maximum Embarrassment audiobook seriesJ. C. Cummings is a happy, hard-working, and fun-loving author of adult fiction living the seaside cottage lifestyle in beautiful, sun-drenched North Carolina. Oh, he loves his work! Sitting out on the deck, typing away at the sexploits of one randy couple after another...and all the while feeling his own tingles from the sun and the ocean breeze on his skin, the rhythmic pounding of the surf in his ears, and view after view of semi-naked bodies spread out before him...well, he absolutely cannot think of anything he'd rather do more (for a living, anyway)!Scott Ashe is a Rhode Island-based musician, writer, and instructor with over 25 years' experience both onstage and backstage. He holds a BM from Berklee College of Music and has been leading musicians, professional and amateur alike, onto the stage since 1981.
