One life. Two lives. Three lives. Four.

My hands are stained from the blood and the gore.

The screams and cries of agonizing pain.

If I lose them now, I'll never be the same.

My sister, my cousin – my whole damn world. It was my worst nightmare come to life, and I don't know how the hell I'm supposed to survive.

I thought that night was the end of it. I thought we finally had our chance to pick up the pieces of our shattered souls and put the worst behind us. We were supposed to start fresh, but the world had other plans for us.

Now it's more important than ever to watch our backs. Our defenses are down, and the enemy lies in wait, but they can't break us. I won't let them. As far as I'm concerned, they can come at me with everything they've got because I'm Tanner Morgan, and I'm ready to burn them down.

There's not a damn thing I wouldn't do to protect the ones I love. The question is, how far are they willing to go?
