Ryan Johnson moves into his new neighborhood and the game is afoot. Ryan is a writer of romance novels. Stories that revolve around big black seducers and the lonely white housewives that inhabit small suburban towns. Research, he finds, is always his favorite part of story writing. Write what you know and love what you write... right? With this new neighborhood, he finds that he may have hit the mother load, no pun intended. Well... maybe intended. Desperate housewife Teresa, young college girl Missy, and even the Karen that lives right next door to him, are soon to find that Ryan has much in store for them.

Note: This story contains situations containing interracial cuckolding, hotwives, femdom, and more.
