"C, that's why I don't fool with women."

I know you've heard this phrase from a relative or friend, or even a stranger that you passed on the street.

Valley can't wait to tell anyone who is willing to listen about her girl's trip to New York with her cousin Ila. Of course, she adds a lie or two to have a theatrical conversation. Sharia is now working a nine to five since kicking her husband Wentzville out of the house to move back home with his meddling.

Ree, Ila, Del'Feela, and Zantaneek all have something going on in their busy lives. Will the ladies fool with each other to talk and genuinely support one another through trying times, or will backstabbing tear them apart?
