I'm starting fresh today. I'm going to write about my experiences and emotions. Maybe one day someone will make this into a book. So let's start by telling you about myself.

My name is Carrie and I love sex. Everything about it. I love guys who are older cause they are better at f--king. I love the chase. Finding a guy, single, married, mainly older and talking him into have a good time with me, naked and intimate.

I'm now 24 but I've been like this since my 18th birthday when I was seduced by Richard who was much older and loved younger women. Well women who are between 18 and 22, any size, any shape and anywhere - so he said. We had a wild three days together. I learned more than any 18 year old should know about the art of sex and how to please a man. That is another story and one you need to watch out for. It's been my secret now for the last six years and maybe time to tell you about it.

But back to now and me. I'm Carrie White, blonde, petit and attractive. Or at least that is what they tell me, family, friends and lovers. I enjoy dancing, shows and eating. I'm a pizza queen, but I go for food from around the world. I left school and went to college for a year to study Hair and Make-up but I didn't learn anything new so I left.

I took a job promoting and merchandising. That meant standing in a Departmental Store or supermarket giving away samples or doing a make-up make-over. It was OK and I was doing what I liked, meeting new people and having fun. Wasn't really like work.
