She doesn't have to fight alone. John, the bouncer who has always looked after her, and Rachel, the petite dancer who has a crush on her, survive the initial disaster with her. The trio band together to survive and help each other. Soon, she discovers another ally - a strange, glowing blue window, that promises her magic and power. But only if she takes her clothes off in public.

Read the thrilling adventure as they come to terms with their new powers and use them to save the city from the terrifying Dragon of Houston.
