Let's say you're an independent, self-sufficient woman who runs the family company and you find yourself falling for your little brother's best friend. Now, more than ever, you need to count all the reasons why you need to abandon falling.

Abandon falling number one - he's a womanizer. Hasn't had a serious relationship a day in his life and changes women more often than he changes his sheets.

Abandon falling number two - he's never serious. He cracks one-liners, mostly at your expense.

Abandon falling number three - when things go wrong, he seems unfazed and always remains in control. It's so annoying.

Abandon falling number four - he has tattoos. Lots of them. Everywhere. Not to mention, he owns a tattoo parlor. (Damn it! Why doesn't that sound like a bad thing anymore?)

Abandon falling number five - there's a growing list of how different you two are. You can't get along for 15 minutes - a lifetime together would land one of you in prison.

Keep repeating those reasons and drown yourself in work. Pretend you don't notice his good qualities or how enticing he looks without a shirt, and do not, I repeat, do not agree to live with the man while your place is being repaired from flood damage.

Trust me, even the strongest of us can only forego temptation for so long.
