A dreamy, escapist romance from Alison Roberts, perfect for fans of Gillian Harvey, Kate Frost and Lucy Coleman

She came to Provence in the hope of a fresh start, she never expected she would fall in love and find herself along the way.

Inheriting an old stone house in Provence, along with her sisters is the catalyst Ellie Gilchrist needs to put some distance between her and her grief. But when she arrives at the run down La Masionette hidden amongst overgrown lavender and ivy, she wonders if she's made a mistake?

That is until she meets her guarded neighbour Julien and his adorable little boy, and she's surprised by the flutters of excitement she never thought she'd feel again. Add in rescuing a stray dog and she has the much needed distraction she needs. Ellie decides to stay temporarily and work on bringing the little house back to life again. If only she can ignore the fireworks that explode every time she's around Julien. They both have hearts they want to protect, but a little temporary affaire can't be too dangerous, especially when Ellie has stated she will be leaving after the last summer market of the season. But something in the alchemy of what she discovers in this part of France seems to be casting an irresistible spell making it difficult to walk away.

Fall head over heels in love with Provence and this unforgettable romance. Perfect for fans of Gillian Harvey, Kate Frost and Jennifer Bohnet

'A beautifully written romantic escape to Provence with endearing characters.'

Jennifer Bohnet

'Ooh la la! A sexy French single dad doctor, an old house in need of a little TLC, a cute dog and even a pair of donkeys - what more do you need for a heartwarming escape to pretty Provence?' Victoria Springfield
