Synopsis

A teenage girl wakes up in a hospital in Baton Rouge, Louisiana with no idea how she got there — or what happened to her. Things turn even more terrifying when a strange older man appears out of nowhere, insisting this 17-year old high school student is actually his wife.

Dead Sleep: True Crime for Bedtime is created and narrated by award-winning editor and writer Nancy Miller (host of HBO Max's "I'll Be Gone in the Dark" "The Staircase" and "Love & Death" podcasts).
