Have you ever wondered how pole vaulters are able to jump so, so, so high? Or about the weird things famous athletes eat in order to dominate on the court? Meet the Story Pirates, a nationally renowned family media company and creators of The Story Pirates Podcast. They'll answer those questions and more in Game On, their new adventure series created in partnership with Steph Curry's Unanimous Media. In each episode, the Story Pirates take listeners on imaginative and hilarious journeys through time and space, exploring everything about professional sports and the incredible athletes who play them. Whether it's a tour through the history of legendary players' signature moves or an in-depth look at athletes' most unexpected hobbies, Game On covers it all with a blend of curiosity, awe, and, of course, plenty of LOLs. Game On gives kids and their families the chance to laugh and learn, regardless of whether they consider themselves sports fans. It's not a show about stats; it's a show about having fun. So fire up your imaginations, and prepare to laugh. It's Game On!
