As a successful lawyer in Miami, going home to the tiny town of Broken Branch for her older sister's wedding was the last thing Alexis Beauchamp really wanted to do. After the devilishly handsome rodeo cowboy Kip Caldwell catches her attention at the rehearsal dinner, she decides the trip may have been worthwhile after all.

Kip has two reasons to be in town: The Professional Rodeo Riders Association finals and a wedding he doesn't really want to attend. Will Alexis, the stunning and sassy redhead he encounters, be enough for him to consider leaving the saddle bronc circuit and settle down?
