The third novel in Amanda Scott's best-selling Highland series introduces an unforgettable Scottish beauty caught between two men vying for her hand.

Most Highlanders fear Black Duncan Campbell. Mary MacLaine isn't intimidated, but she blames him for the death of his brother Ian, her first love. When Ewan, Lord MacCrichton tries to strong-arm Mary into marriage, he unknowingly forces Mary to seek aid from the man she vowed to hate forever.

The only way Duncan can convince Mary of his innocence is to find his brother's real killers. But now she faces grave danger . . . unless Duncan can stop MacCrichton from exploiting her gift of Second Sight for his own avaricious ends. Resisting the desire that Mary arouses poses an even greater risk to Duncan. To win her trust, he has to show her that the most priceless treasure of all is the love they can find only in each other's arms.
