For every man and woman working in business. Government. Education. Family. Arts. Media. Tired of working for the weekend with nothing really significant happening Monday-Friday? Clicking off the days till retirement? Wish your work really mattered? It does - right here and right now, in your current position and industry. You need to know your calling is both endorsed and applauded by God. When you key in to your potential to deliver IMPACT in your spheres of influence, then you'll be liberated to thrive where God has divinely placed you. Discover that you're wired to run in your power alley, using your gifts, dialoging with God - your Chief Consultant - and bringing HIS presence into your world every day. Become part of a growing Marketplace Awakening as men and women alongside you embrace the call to do the things they were born to do, bringing godly IMPACT. Resist isolation and lock arms with an authentic community of believers. Stir up your gifts and your passion to run with excellence in all you do. It matters to God and to the world. If you have endured your job in the workplace waiting for the day when you just might get to do "real ministry", then this book is for you. IMPACT Your Sphere of INFLUENCE answers your core concern as a believer on staff anywhere but the local church about the significance of your role in the Kingdom of God - and it's valid.
