Classic pulp hero Jim Anthony, Super Detective, returns in a brand-new novel in two parts that pits him against all kinds of strange and legendary beasts. And in both cases, he is accompanied by fanatical hunter Russian Count Zaroff from the classic short story "The Most Dangerous Game" by Richard Connell.

In part one, Death in Yellow by Joshua Reynolds, Anthony and Zaroff square off against a group of savage Tibetan yetis loose in the steel canyons of Manhattan. Why these creatures are here, and who is behind their murderous rampage, is a classic mystery that challenges the one and only Super Detective.

Then, in part two, On the Periphery of Legend by Micah S. Harris, Anthony reluctantly accompanies the mad Russian on an expedition to a lost island in the South Pacific where dinosaurs still roam. But that's not the most dangerous game in those time-lost jungles.

Here are two amazing tales woven together into a classic pulp adventure that will test the mettle of our hero, who is half Irish, half Comanche, and all American! Airship 27 Productions is thrilled to present Jim Anthony: Super Detective, The Hunters, Volume 2.
