Photographer and artist turns art thief. But an investigative journalist is intent on uncovering her secret past. Is the Masterpiece worth her life?

Photographer, artist and art forger Mikky dos Santos has had a tough life and now she's about to steal the world's most famous stolen painting—Vermeer's The Concert—worth $200 million.

When Mikky's flatmate is commissioned to paint one of the world's most famous divas her life begins to spiral into chaos. An evil investigative journalist and a dangerous businessman are on the hunt to uncover Mikky's darkest secrets and threaten her detailed plans.

The race is on.

This breathtaking protagonist is exhilarating and has attitude, yet underlying it all, a longing for human connection that makes you love her despite her own best efforts to push you away.

There are rich glimpses into European cities, a savvy feel for the international art world and an electrifying female sleuth who blasts into your life with explosive excitement. This thrilling page-turner will shock you with the stunning twist at the end.

Set in London (England), Mallorca (Spain) and Dresden (Germany)—this international crime thriller will leave you on the edge of your seat until the twist at the very end.

You will be instantly hooked!
