Synopsis

author	April Fisher
readBy	Concha di Pastoro
inLanguage	english

My best friend was so much cooler than me in every way. We'd grown up together and she'd always been the one to keep the bullies off of me, took care of me when I was sick, and got me through every bad break up. It was only when she went through the first big break up of her own that she realized who really mattered. Needless to say, I was there for her.
