When wanted and needed are two very different things!

Scarlett was ready for a change when the offer to take over a small clinic in the town of Garoureve passed her desk. Within a month she had arrived, ready to get right to work as the town's newest medical provider. What she found, instead, was a town that needed her so desperately it wasn't willing to let her go.

But for as much as she doesn't understand the magic of the town, or anything about wolf shifter physiology, what she does know is that she's slowly falling in love with the town baker and living her own sort of romance story. She might not have wanted to stay once the truth came out, but if the town isn't going to let her leave, then she should make the most of it, right?

But when the inevitable happens and there's nothing she can do to stop it, he pushes her away. When she finds out why, finds out everything he knew, and finds out the truth about the job offer, it might not matter how badly she's needed.

The second book in a series of paranormal romances featuring plus-size heroines, wolf shifters, fated mates, and a town that magically appears when it's needed.
