Small-town romance with faith, humor, and more than a dash of danger!
Can a plus-size teacher with a daughter and a dangerous secret and an ex-cowboy player with wanderlust build a future together?
Genevieve loves her daughter, books, and sweets, in that order—mostly. Since men just see her as a friend, she gave up on romantic relationships. Besides, nobody outside her family can know her secret. Especially not her new friend and tentative crush, Declan O’Neill, who leaves foreign countries and gorgeous women behind him easier than she can set aside a good book and a cup of cocoa.
Declan is attracted to the kind teacher, but she keeps him further away than he long ago stowed his cowboy boots and saddle. Although the mystery surrounding her also piques his investigative mind, a secret of his own makes him avoid commitments.
When her life is in peril, will this unlikely pair discover a chance at survival—and love?
Escape to Cowboy Crossing - COMPLETED SERIES!
Women scarred by their painful pasts, bonded like sisters by the secrets they share. Cowboys able to see the hurting hearts behind the tough facades. And someone willing to kill to get what they want...
