Organizational Muscle is a business operating system developed to organize knowledge and leverage activity to its maximum value. It™s all the stuff needed to build, grow, and improve a thriving organization that endures for the long haul! This system offers owners, leaders, and entrepreneurs the freedom to enjoy their lives, employees, and businesses. Organizational Muscle is based on Nolan Painting, a real company in Philadelphia and a recognized leader in the home improvement industry. Entrepreneurs can also use this system to increase structure and strength or build muscle in their businesses. Organizational Muscle helps small businesses reach their summit by providing big-picture thinking and real-life solutions to growing companies.
