Amir and Neena joined the adventure of a lifetime by mistake, but they met their first challenge head on. They helped King Root the Brave conquer his biggest fear, but will they be able to help bring Sacra the Joyouss' smile and dry home back to life? Continue the adventure inside and get lost in the magic once again!

 Winner of the 2019 Best Indie Illustration Award, this fantasy and folklore based children's picture book addresses the concepts of: empathy, emotional literacy and intelligence, spirituality, and diversity in children's literature in a fun and approachable way. Join Amir and Neena as they become stuck in the Land of the Spirits and must use their emotional intelligence and friendship to get back home.

 The children journey through a mystical realm where they meet heroes who each represent a different ancient culture, a different imbalanced emotion, and a physical embodiment of the chakras!

 Ideal for children ages five to nine, but entertaining and educational for all ages.
