After weeks on the run, the US Marshals relocate me to a small West Texas town. I'm exhausted and lonely with no friends or family to lean on until my two sexy-as-sin neighbors stop by. I shouldn't fantasize about our friendship growing into more but can't stop my growing attraction. I want them both. And both want me. Shade with his brooding scowl and Trap with his flirty smiles work in tandem igniting heart-pounding passion and provide the unending support I desperately need while in witness protection. Add in the way they are with my daughter makes me never want to leave. I finally feel safe, protected. But when you're on the run from a monster, everything can change in the blink of an eye. Not even my two protectors saw this coming.

If you love steamy hot romance, edge of your seat suspense, overly protective heroes, and characters struggling to overcome their past, then this book is for you. Saved by the Officers is a dual POV, MFM, standalone romantic suspense. Please note this series is recommended for listeners 18+ due to graphic content, discussion of past abuse, PTSD, and foul language. Each book can be listened to as a standalone but is best listened to in order.
