After dealing with a very public and humiliating breakup the previous holiday season, Noelle sees nothing worth celebrating this holiday season. With the loss of her parents and no love life, all she wants to do is sleep until the New Year. But when her sister plans a special wedding ceremony the day before Christmas, Noelle has no choice but to put her big girl panties on and show up for her.

Kaleb Barkley is one of the most talented songwriters in the industry and possibly the sexiest. Yet, he's still single. Losing his sight on what love is after his parents left him destitute, he has little to no interest in relationships. However, there is one person who's always struck a chord in his heart – the beautiful Noelle.

Being that they've always been best friends, neither wants to make a move. But one steamy night changes the dynamics of their relationship. The feelings are evident and the chemistry is insane but what happens when they're both too scared to give their hearts away?
