

Somewhere in the Crowd

author: Katrina Logan

---

2026-06

Synopsis

---

authori¼š	Katrina Logan
readByi¼š	Sofia Zervudachi
inLanguagei¼š	english

Four friends. Twelve years. One Eurovision...

Eurovision is always the highlight of Millie's year. So when she and her best friend James get the chance to see the final live in Oslo, it's a dream come true - until they get swept up the excitement and try to break backstage, along with carefree German singer Ingrid and charismatic Australian backpacker, Noah.

Getting thrown out of the stadium wasn't exactly the plan, but it might just spark the friendship - and the pact - of a lifetime. The four of them are going to reunite for every final, every year, every Eurovision.

Over the years, the unlikely four celebrate iconic Eurovision moments all across Europe - and, most importantly, are there for each other during all their highs and lows, heartaches and triumphs. But real life takes them down increasingly different paths, their promise becomes harder and harder to keep. Can the magic of Eurovision bring them together one last time...?

A joyous and uplifting novel inspired by the iconic song contest, about friendship, love and finding where you belong.

Reader's comments

---

comment 1:

â€"â€" ()