

Struck by Eros

author: Jenn Windrow

2026-08

Synopsis

author	Jenn Windrow
readBy	Chelsea Stephens
inLanguage	english

Cupid's aim sucks worse than his curse.
 Noel was one craptacular boyfriend away from taking a vow of celibacy when she found her dull-but-reliable fianc . Maybe he didn't get her, ahem, juices flowing, but so what? At least he wouldn't break her heart. But then Cupid had to go and shoot her in the ass with his ill-timed arrow and ruin everything by saddling her with the worst soulmate ever.

Grayson Adler.

He was everything she swore she'd never fall for again - arrogant and sexy in an obvious, Greek god kind of way. Every inch of him screamed heartache. Running away was her best bet. Too bad she couldn't. Because not only is Grayson her soulmate, he's also her new co-worker. The job? Helping Cupid fix his screwed-up love matches.

Well, her new boss is just going to have to get used to disappointment. Noel might have to work for Cupid, but there's no way she's going to let some smirking, winged, freak tell her who she's going to love.

Now all she'll have to do is figure out how to keep her hands off her soulmate until she finds a way out of this mess. Easy, right?

If only...

A hot, hilarious modern-day retelling of Apollo and Daphne...you'll never look at Greek Myths the same way again!

Struck By Eros is the award winning first book in The Redeeming Cupid Series.

Reader's comments

comment 1:

â€"â€" ()