Kelsey is a young recent college grad who's yearning to get her foot in the door and start the dream career she had always hoped for. She's stuck at a job she doesn't like, surrounded by people who don't appreciate her efforts. Her life is dull and nothing like she had imagined it would be by now.

But fate has a way of colliding into us from angles unseen. When Kelsey runs into Brandon, everything changes.

Brandon is an MMA fighter who became a billionaire before he was 30. His life is fast-paced and too full for him to have a moment to relax and enjoy his life. Kelsey is looking for something more in life, and Brandon is seeking for less of what his life now throws at him.

Will the two of them find a middle ground, or are they both fighting a battle that can't be won?
