Ever felt like you just didn't quite get the financial education you wanted? There's evidence of a huge lack of financial literacy in American youth, and that shouldn't be the case. David Mills Jr. has compiled a comprehensive guide to personal finance that covers everything you need to know to get your personal finances started off on the right foot.

Whether you're a high school student, a young adult, or just a curious teenager, this book will meet you where you're at and arm you with the basics of personal finance. The book covers things like taxes, investments, insurance and even how to set up your own accounts and build your credit score.

These crucial steps will set you up for success in the future, and give you the knowledge you need to navigate whatever financial decisions come your way. It's easy to feel overwhelmed when you enter the world of finances, but this book proves that it doesn't have to be complicated!
