From the makers of the award-winning TV series comes a new story following the women inmates of Wentworth Correctional Facility.

Maddie, Scarlett and Anna are three 18-year-olds on the threshold of the rest of their lives. Or they will be, once they finish serving their sentences at Mockridge Juvenile Centre. With release dates fast approaching, the girls are out of chances - one more altercation with the law and it's adult prison.

Forensic psychologist and former Wentworth staffer Bridget Westfall sees an opportunity to make a true and lasting change through the introduction of the RAFT anti-recidivism program at Mockridge. Designed to allow juvenile offenders to experience adult prison under controlled conditions, in order to discourage them from reoffending, the three teen girls enter Wentworth Correctional Facility under Bridget's watch. 48 hours later, only two come out alive.

As tensions erupt into bloodshed, and loyalties are tested and corrupted, Bridget works to investigate the explosive series of events and races against time to uncover the truth as to who's responsible for the death of the young inmate and to ultimately prevent the past from repeating itself.
