In this one-hour history book, discover why 1942 was such a decisive year as we uncover the main events of that year during World War II, the most lethal war of all times.

Nineteen-forty-two came on the scene like a fast-moving freight train careening around a series of rapid twists and turns. In a matter of months, the Japanese made themselves masters of the entire Dutch East Indies. The Soviet Union was faced with near collapse as the Germans pounded at the gates of Moscow, and America's East Coast was besieged by Nazi U-Boats. It was a year of quick and decisive action during which the situation changed from day to day.

This book relates all of the major events of 1942 in the order they happened. If you would like a complete and concise reference on this pivotal year of the war, this book will provide it for you in full.

In this short, one hour audiobook, you will learn everything you need to know about what happened in 1942 during World War II.
