

Kill A Revolution: The Assassinations of Malcolm X a

author:

2026-08

Synopsis

It's never too late for justice to be served and that's why we're diving deep into the murders of the Honorable Malcolm X and Black Panther Chairman Fred Hampton this week. We're looking into the details and legal implications surrounding their assassinations in the 1960s. We're also looking into the new evidence that has recently come to light in both cases and what we can do today, in 2021 to help get justice for these revolutionaries. And don't forget our diverse docket this week, covering everything from the Ohio mom who was arrested for leaving her children home to go to work, to Tiger Woods most recent car crash (c'mon Tiger!), to the latest updates on T.I. and Tiny's sexual allegations, and Derek Chauvin's trial which is set to begin next week. Let's go!

If you're an NYC resident and would like to vote in the upcoming district attorney election, The NYC Board of Elections has resources on how to register to vote here. You can find important NYC election and voting deadlines here.

Follow Eboni K. Williams on IG or TW, and Dustin Ross on IG or TW

Holding Court with Eboni K. Williams is produced by Uppity Productions LLC in association with Dossie Media LLC and Temple & Riot Productions, and presented by The Black Effect Network from iHeartRadio and Charlamagne tha God. Audio production services provided by One of One Productions. Music provided courtesy of EpidemicSound.com.

Discussions in this podcast are for general information and entertainment purposes only and should not be considered legal advice. Always consult a lawyer for your individual circumstances.

For more podcasts from iHeartRadio, visit the iHeartRadio app, Apple Podcasts or wherever you listen to your favorite shows.

Learn more about your ad-choices at <https://www.iheartpodcastnetwork.com>

See omnystudio.com/listener for privacy information.

Reader's comments

comment 1:

â€"â€" ()